Civic Report and Framework

On 22 October, the Vice-Chancellor hosted a launch event for the report People, place, partnership: Civic priorities for the University of Cambridge. This report marks a renewed civic approach, developed in response to the region's growing innovation ecosystem and the recognition that its benefits are not equally felt across all communities. It builds on existing engagement activity across the collegiate University and aims to strengthen local relationships, align efforts, deepen partnerships, and embed inclusive, place-based collaboration.

The report is informed by a large-scale consultation involving residents, community organisations, businesses, local authorities, staff and students. It presents key insights and introduces a Civic Framework to guide future engagement by the University.

The report and further information about engagement with the local community are available at: <https://www.cam.ac.uk/about-the-university/civic-engagement/civic-listening-report-summary>.

Incident Management and Business Continuity Policy

23 October 2025

The Council has approved minor amendments to the University's Incident Management and Business Continuity Policy. The changes are largely for clarification and to reflect the University's updated Major Incident Plan and updated plan exercising requirements. The updated Policy and the Major Incident Plan are available to those with a University account on the Governance and Compliance Incident Management and Business Continuity pages at: <https://www.governanceandcompliance.admin.cam.ac.uk/assurance-risk-resilience/incident-management-and-business-continuity-planning/policy-and-plans>.
